SUMMARY

I am a junior software engineer with only 6 months of experience in creating and improving software applications using WordPress. I use React, Node.js, and Express.js to develop full-stack web applications that are scalable and secure. I enjoy solving problems and have successfully enhanced a software program to run 30% more efficiently. I am now eager to develop my skills further as a beginner-level full-stack web developer in a trainee role at a software house.
